Allot 3 points to any runner which finished fourth last time. You seem to not understand what "needless risk" means. Logic: 3yos at the top of the handicap are improving horses as opposed to older. The flaw in that argument is two-fold. I opt for the number of winners a jockey has ridden on the track in preference to strike rate, which can often be misleading, especially when a low number of qualifying rides is evident. There was huge overround arbitrage 30 years ago in horse racing. Therefore, I wound things down, gambled less, got involved with the Rotary Club. I am getting more confident now and upping my stakes as my betting bank increases.
